SCOPE OF SERVICES

Erie Community College Program Needs Assessment and Corresponding Space Analysis

DESCRIPTION: INSTITUTIONAL PROFILE

Overview

Established in 1946, SUNY Erie Community College (ECC) provides comprehensive, affordable, and accessible quality educational opportunities to a diverse community. It is the fourth largest State University of New York (SUNY) community college. ECC maintains three distinct campuses under a unified governance structure with a common mission and vision.

The ECC North Campus, located in Williamsville since 1960, is the oldest and the largest of the three campuses of ECC. Today, North Campus is spread over 120 acres, offering classes to students in six buildings, totaling approximately 500,000 square feet, serving approximately 45% of ECC's students.

In 1982, the City Campus moved to its present site at the Old Post Office, a 225,000 square foot architectural landmark built in 1901 in downtown Buffalo. In 1993, as part of the World University Games, New York State and Erie County built a 125,000 square foot athletic center complete with a renowned swimming pool that was turned over to ECC after completion of the games. The newest facility, located adjacent on Oak Street, opened in January, 2008. The 53,000 square foot facility consists of 20 classrooms and labs, faculty and administrative offices. The City Campus serves approximately 25% of ECC's students.

Academic Programs

ECC offers 53 programs leading to an Associate in Arts, an Associate in Science, an Associate in Applied Science, or an Associate in Occupational Studies degree in four academic divisions: Health Sciences, Business and Public Service, Engineering and Technologies, and Liberal Arts. In addition, the college currently offers 27 certificate programs for students desiring concentrated instruction leading to employment in demand occupations. In addition, ECC offers 13 online and six joint registration programs.

Student Demographics and Institutional Growth

With a Fall 2010 headcount of 15,336 enrollment at ECC had grown over 50% since Fall 2000. ECC experienced a 6% decline in Fall 2011. The decline is attributed to an overall decrease in high school graduation rates and changes in financial aid.

The college continues to serve one of the largest number of disabled and EOP students within SUNY community colleges. For Fall 2010, a little more than a quarter of ECC's enrollees were first-time freshmen, almost 50% were female, approximately 5% were disabled, and 9 out of 10 were Erie County residents. Minority student's account for 28% of all ECC students in Fall 2010 compared to 18% in Fall 2000. This pattern parallels the racial/ethnicity residential distribution of the county. The college continues to attract both traditional and non-traditional students, as indicated by the fact that 33% are 25 years of age and older.

PRIOR PLANS: Since 2001 numerous plans and analyses have been undertaken for the College. These are listed below. All are available for review at the office of Erie County Deputy Commissioner Thomas J. Dearing, Room 1062, 95 Franklin Street, Buffalo, New York 14202. His contact information is as follows: E-mail Thomas.Dearing@erie.gov; Telephone: 716- 858-7256.

1. The Erie Community College – Facilities Master Plan – October 14, 2005, prepared by BHNT Architects, P.C.
2. State University of New York – Erie Community College Capital Facilities Assessment and Reinvestment Plan – Final Report, November 2009, prepared by the Pacific Partners Consulting Group, Inc.
3. Creating a Vision for Serving the Western New York Community – Final Report – ECC Institutional Assessment, May 2002, prepared by Resultants International, Inc.
4. Erie Community College, Strategic Plan: 2012-2014, adopted by the Board of Trustees – February 29, 2012, prepared by Kenneth A. Rogers, Planning Consultant

ISSUE: Although good information has been assembled over the previous ten years there is a need to update material relative to academic programs. This will insure that ECC provides course offerings which best position graduates for future employment, and academic advancement. Such programs will also help to attract students to ECC and allow it to successfully compete with other area community colleges.

Earlier plans did not fully evaluate the space needs of the College's programs with the square footage available at the three campuses. Thus, an updated program analysis will allow for an accurate assessment of the ECC's existing space needs and determine future facility demands.

Prior plans recommended construction of new academic buildings at various locations within the three campus structure. Before embarking on said construction it is critical that the College be fully informed regarding appropriate programs to be housed in the building and the corresponding space needs of the programs. This information will flow from the overall program and space assessment described above.

BASIC SCOPE: The following provides a general description of the key technical work to be undertaken as part of the engagement. All responders are expected to expand upon each element, define work products, itemize person-hours, and provide a timeline for completing individual tasks:

1. Review Existing Data: The Consultant shall become familiar with all written plans, analyses, and projections prepared for ECC since 2000. Information should be obtained from other sources including current College administrators, faculty, and staff. The Consultant is expected to become fully knowledgeable on College planning history, applicability of data to current guidelines, and present role of ECC within the area's workforce training system.

2. Analyze Existing Academic Programs: Using generally accepted methodologies, information from College officials, and appropriate community outreach, determine the effectiveness of current programs offered by ECC. Suggestions for program deletions could be an outcome of this task.
3. Undertake a Program Gap Analysis: Determine areas within the regional employment environment where ECC could fill a gap in workforce training needs. This is intended to insure that the College's academic programs mesh with the current and projected employment of the region. Suggested new course offerings could be an outcome of this task.
4. Partnership Opportunities: Evaluate existing public / private partnership relationships within the College relative to their effectiveness in addressing the needs of regional employers. Determine any opportunities for new partnerships.
5. Existing Space Inventory: Undertake a comprehensive inventory of current space utilized by College Programs and support personnel. Evaluate said inventory relative to generally acceptable industry standards and determine space inadequacies not only by square footage but also by program, and quality of space.
6. Future Space Needs: Given any program deletions and/or additions recommended by Tasks 2 and 3 above, identify adjustments to the space inventory necessary to fully accommodate effective, efficient, and State of the Art learning environment for ECC students. This task shall also update projected student enrollment projections over a fifteen-year time horizon and incorporate said projections into the future space needs task.
7. Location Analysis: Evaluate the effectiveness of locating existing and new programs at the three campuses. Determine whether the space requirements (e.g. Welding Program would require a different classroom size than an academic program) of certain offerings are better suited at one campus versus another. Is proximity to existing public / private institutions within the region an important factor in program location?
8. Outreach Program: Organize and participate in a comprehensive outreach program within the College and community at large. This effort will be directed by an advisory committee consisting of officials within ECC, Erie County, and within the regional workforce and economic development fields. Various subgroups may be formed to focus on specific topical areas. It is also expected that the selected consultant will conduct appropriate interviews with key stakeholders at the College and community level to allow full competency in the academic and workforce development needs of the region.
9. Final Product: A final report shall be prepared by the Consultant. It shall include, but not be limited to data addressing the following key questions.
 - (a) Are the programs offered by ECC adequately addressing the workforce development needs of the region?
 - (b) What existing programs are effective? Are improvements required in current offerings which would align them better with employment opportunities in the area?

- (c) Does the College have adequate, state of the art space to accommodate high level academic and technical programs?
- (d) Is current space utilization at the three campuses efficiently utilized to capitalize on partnership opportunities, space / equipment needs of new or updated course offerings, etc.?
- (e) Should additional academic / technical space be needed, where is it best located (campus) to insure effective access to possible partnership opportunities, complementary College support requirements, etc.?
- (f) What displacement to other academic / technical programs would occur given any new building construction and how would such displaced programs be accommodated elsewhere within the College campus environment?
